Subject: Maybe some protected trees at Augrabies PV site

Dear Ms Mans

A correction to what I previously told you. The farm on which the proposed Augrabies PV project is proposed including the alternative site (site 2), does include protected trees, particularly Boscia albitrunca. At the preferred site (site 1) I did not see any large trees (>2m) but it is possible that there may be smaller protected plants on the site that require either relocation or permits for removal.

If a more thorough checking of the site prior to construction identifies any such smaller trees, the necessary permits would be applied for prior to construction commencing.

The final Botanical Report and Environmental Management Programme will be amended to highlight this issue.

Yours sincerely,

Philip Rosenthal
