Based on a site visit and analysis as well as review of the background information such as specialist reports and the project plan, compile an Environmental Management Programme that provides:

- Environmental management specifications to mitigate identified and anticipated negative environmental impacts and promote positive impacts as applicable out of the BAR process during each respective phase of development, namely design, construction, operation and decommissioning.
- Background and the administrative framework for the implementation and enforcement of the management specifications in the EMPr;
- EMPr compliance monitoring, auditing and enforcement procedures and checklists.
